Track 1. Civil society organisations	Track 2 – Citizen initiatives
1. Mid-February 2027 – Call for proposals • The first and only call for proposals will begin. Civil society organisations may prepare a project proposal provided they meet the basic eligibility criteria. 2. Mid-February – mid-March 2027 – Submission of project pitches • Organisations will have four weeks to submit a short project pitch of no more than two pages (two-pager). 3. Mid March – Initial selection • First, the application will be checked to ensure it meets the basic eligibility criteria. The proposals will then be assessed against the published criteria, as well as for diversity and scope. 4. April 2027 – Invitation to submit a full proposal • It is expected that 10 to 15 organisations will be invited to draw up a full project proposal. They will be given approximately four weeks to do so. 5. June 2027 – Assessment and decision • The independent selection committee will assess the full proposals and make a decision on funding by June 2027 at the latest. 6. From June 2027 – Planned start of projects • Once funding has been awarded, projects can commence. The maximum project duration is three years.	1. Mid-February 2027 – Call for proposals • Partin opens the first application round for citizen initiatives in the Netherlands that meet the basic criteria. • Too early for you? There will be three more rounds in 2027, 2028, and 2029. 2. Mid February – mid March 2027 – submit project pitch • Initiatives will have four weeks to submit a short, one-page project pitch (one-pager). 3. Mid March 2027 – Initial selection • Proposals will first be checked against the basic eligibility criteria and then assessed against the published criteria, diversity and scope. 4. April 2027 – Invitation to participate in peer-to-peer sessions • It is expected that 10 to 15 initiatives will be invited to take part in the peer-to-peer sessions. During these sessions, they will exchange experiences and learn from one another. Links will also be established with projects from Track 1. • During the P2P sessions, the selected initiatives will develop their one-pagers into project proposals. They will be given approximately six weeks to do so. 5. June 2027 – Assessment and decision • The independent selection committee will assess the full proposals and is expected to decide in June 2027. 6. After award – Start projects • Projects may commence once funding has been awarded and will run for twelve months.
